Contracts—Autumn 2017

REQUIRED READING

The required reading consists of the following books:

Macaulay et al., Contracts: Law in Action: Introductory Course, Vol. 1, 4th ed. (Carolina Academic Press, 2016).

Chirelstein, Concepts & Case Analysis in the Law of Contracts, 7th ed. (Foundation Press, 2013).

Scott and Kraus, Contract Law & Theory: Selected Provisions, 5th ed. (2013).

You must have the correct edition of each book. These books are available for purchase at the bookstore.

READING

This syllabus includes 41 reading assignments. The class meets 42 times during the semester, which means that there is a tiny bit of flex in the schedule. Each week will typically cover three assignments. Those who do the reading on the weekends should read three assignments ahead and try to re-read or skim the assignments before class.

There are three assigned books. The supplement contains the Uniform Commercial Code and the Second Restatement of Contracts. When you encounter sections of the Uniform Commercial Code in the reading, you must look up those sections in the supplement. If you do not read the Code, you will never understand it.

There are other two assigned books. One is Chirelstein's fine book, and the other is the casebook. When an assignment includes reading from both of these books, read Chirelstein first and the casebook second, as Chirelstein provides an excellent roadmap to the material. If you can read only one or the other, House of Russell alumni recommend that you read Chirelstein.

Professor Russell will supplement class lectures with occasional assignments distributed via the class listserv.

ASSIGNMENTS

Before the first class, complete the following tasks.

1. Listserv. You must MAKE SURE that you are subscribed to the class listserv. Complete the assignments that Professor Russell sends to the list.
2. Survey. Please complete the anonymous survey.
3. Reading. For the first week of class, expect to complete the first three assignments. Some students like to do all their reading on the weekend.
